A.T. Mann introduces Dynamic Astrology: Resonant DNA and the Spiral Solar System

Life Time Astrology Wheel

Our life is divided into four octaves: Gestation, Childhood, Maturity and Transcendence. You date when in life planets and house cusps "register" by using the wheel above or the table below. Gestation (physical body) begins at Cusp9 and ends at birth(ASC); Childhood (emotional body) begins at C1 and ends at C5; Maturity (mental body) begins at C5 and extends to or beyond C9, the archetypal death and conception point. Gestation has a double function because it is also the fourth Transcendent or Transpersonal octave where our drive to express the true Self beyond the physical world is manifest. This diagram shows the archetypal position of house cusps and octaves. An actual horoscope using Placidus houses has its own unique transition times for houses, sign cusps, planets and their aspect sensitive points around the chart.

Spiral Solar System and the DNA molecule

The sun orbits the galactic center, moving a million miles each day, creating a complex spiral pattern in time. Every human travels this same spiral and its form, the movements of the planets, makes a spiral pattern similar to that of the genetic molecule DNA. They exchange information via resonance. Dynamic Astrology decodes the spiral solar system, tracing your life back to conception, and beyond back into previous lives. ### Life Time Arcs

Each planet, cusp, and all aspect sensitive points occur in sequence around the chart in this sample Life Time Arc printout in WinStar 4, Sirius 2.0 and eventually Solar Fire.

The Cylinder of Life

Our astrological life in time is lived through a symbolic cylinder beginning at conception (at the bottom). As we age, the cylinder fills up with memories and experiences. Planets register at certain levels of the cylinder and aspects connect them through the timeless centre of the horoscope. The movements of the planets spiralling through the cylinder makes a pattern similar to that of the genetic molecule DNA.
